

GEORGE BUSH

February 19, 2016
for
March 19, 2016

Barbara and I extend warm greetings to all who are gathered to celebrate the seventieth anniversary of St. Alban's Episcopal Church in Waco, Texas.

The anniversary of a place of worship is always an exciting and momentous event for any congregation. On occasions such as this, we reaffirm our Nation's spiritual and moral heritage, as well as the tradition of religious liberty that has helped to sustain it.

More than a celebration of faith and freedom, this special occasion is also a time to reflect on the importance of virtues such as charity, forgiveness, and brotherhood – virtues that find their highest expression in lives of goodness and service. By celebrating and renewing your faith through an event that emphasizes the importance of Christian fellowship, you are strengthening the foundation for the future of your beloved Church.

We Bushes send warmest best wishes for a memorable day and for many more decades of joyous worship at St. Alban's. God bless you all.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "G. W. Bush #41".